As well there will be a film shown which was taken at the International Conference of Red Cross in Toronto in July of this year, and this too will be worthwhile.

McGILL—WATT

Pink and white carnations with pine and white bows formed the setting for a very pretty candle light service in the Haliburton United Church on January 2nd at 7 p.m. when Yula Marlene, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Watt of Haliburton was united in marriage to Charles Martin, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin McGill of Toronto. Rev. T. Rutherford performed the service with Mrs. Melville McKnight at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father the bride looked very charming in a gown of ivory satin and lace with fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline. Her floor length veil of silk net was caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Miss Eva Walling, her only attendant chose pale green brocade satin with matching bonnet and mittens. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations. Best man was Bill Cooper of Toronto, friend of the groom. The ushers were Messrs. D. Madoc and Andy McGill of Toronto.

Miss Bonita Lee, soloist, sang the Lord's Prayer before the ceremony and because during the singing of the register.

A reception was held at the home of the bride, Mrs. Watt wearing cinnamon brown with dark brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother, Mrs. McGill was attired in green with dark green accessories with a corsage of pink roses.

Following the reception the happy couple left for Toronto enroute to Quebec City where they will make their home. The bride travelled in a blue suit with navy accessories.

United Church WMS Meeting MINDEN

The Women's Missionary Society of the Minden United Church held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Lorne Coburn on Thursday afternoon, January 8th, and report as follows:

Thinking of our theme for the year, namely "Means of Grace" Mrs. Brintnell opened this meeting with the topic "Book of Life—the Bible" as one of the chief means of grace. Scripture readings, prayers and hymns were all chosen with this theme in mind.

An article was read on Christian Stewardship, showing that all have it in their power to bring joy to others, with illustrations of how even those wracked with pain refrained from self pity and accomplished wonders, for for which they will be long remembered. In closing, it was suggested essentials for happiness are: Something to do, something to love, and something to hope for.

Mrs. Windover read letters of thanks for cards and fruit sent by the Society to those absent or ill.

Miniature Cyclone

Haliburton was visited by a miniature cyclone just before dawn on Friday last. The most of the damage resulting took place at the Highlander Hotel which had quite a large section of its roof blown off. A large door at the Canadian National Roundhouse was also torn from its hinges.

Therese Tobin Graduates

Miss Therese Tobin, nurse graduate of St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, Ont., has passed her registered nurse examination.

Therese is the daughter of Gordon Tobin and the late Celena (McCann) Tobin.

Mrs. Lister gave her annual report on the financial standing of the Mission Band, which showed that $16.60 was sent to the Presbyterian by that group.

A portion of the study book on Africa was read by Mrs. Brintnell, and the meeting closed with the singing of a hymn and a prayer.

Mrs. Wilfred Berry assisted Mrs. Coburn in serving refreshment, during which a social half hour was enjoyed by all.

Letters to the Editor

Jan. 20th, 1953.

The Editor,
Haliburton County Echo,
Haliburton, Ont.

Dear Sir:

I am pleased to see that "Taxpayer" took some interest in the statement of road expenditures in your issue of January 1st, as it was published for the very purpose of acquainting the taxpayers with the distribution of the expenditures upon our roads.

I see nothing wrong with his breakdown of figures in items 1, 2, 3 and 4. These trucks when doing heavy work such as snow plowing and dragging are running on the lower gears most of the time and it is to be expected that they will take a considerable amount of oil and when snow plowing especially the repair bills are heavier.

Regarding the items classified as miscellaneous, this item includes Insurance which amounted on all trucks for the year to $379.69 of which $60.34 was paid on the truck purchased Aug. 7th, 1952 and other items under this heading are Licence Fees, Alemiting, Transmission Grease, Hydraulic Oil and other similar small items. When the truck which was purchased in August 1952 arrived it had to be equipped with splash guards, chains to prevent the dump box being hoisted too high, and the gas tank had to be moved and shielded, as it was originally mounted where some of the snow plow equipment had to be placed. As this had to be done at our expense it was charged partly to repairs and partly to miscellaneous.

A total of 10,393 yards of gravel was purchased and it is estimated that approximately an equal amount is taken from municipal and other properties which is not paid for.

The writer had thought that a study of the rates per hour at which the various trucks had been rented as indicated in the machinery account would satisfy the "Taxpayer" regarding his idea in the last paragraph of his letter. Furthermore the municipal trucks are not charged to road work in this report unless they are actually working at the job, for instance, if they are standing on the road side while the men are brushing or ditching for a number of hours daily the trucks are not charged to brushing and ditching during that time whereas hired trucks would be paid for the total time during which they are detained whether in actual service or not at not less than $3.00 per hour.

I do not wish to prolong any unnecessary arguments in your columns but I am pleased to acquaint the taxpayers of this Municipality with any information that will prove of value at any time.

Yours very truly,
G. H. WINDSOR,
Clerk-Treas.

Minden, Ontario,
January 17, 1953.

The Editor,
Haliburton County Echo,
Haliburton.

Dear Sir:

It has been my pleasure to read your account of the Inaugural Meeting of the Council of Anson, Hindon and Minden in the paper of January 15th.

Notice

Remember that the third Monday night in each month is Home and School Meeting night.

It Happens Every Year

It came to us by mail today
A little booklet bright and gay

To fill our every garden need,
The yearly catalogue of seed.

In it we found things old and new

Seeds that tried and proven true,

But now I'll start a dialogue
About seeds in the catalogue.

How in the merry month of May

Down on our knees we got one day

And planted seedlets by the score,

Two dozen packages or more.

Tomatoes, corn and beans
and peas,

Cucumbers, cabbage, squash and these

Our cauliflower, best of all
We hope to gather in the fall.

And just to make our garden right

We planted seeds of flowers bright

There by the fence, close to the wall

We planted hollyhocks so tall.

And there, beyond the cottage door

We planted seedlets to adore

Strawberries, lusher, big and red,

Bore through the season, so it read.

But now came the month of June,

The sun shone brightly every noon,

And we, the amateurs with glee

Our garden sprouts begin to see

Month of July was very dry
No rainclouds in the clear,
blue sky,

The tiny plants wilt in the sun,

Need water when the day is done.

Now we get out the water can

And do our duty like a man
We horde up every water drop

To save our precious garden crop.

August—a lovely time of year
The bright green crop of peas appear,

And from aloft comes friend
the crow

To gobble up the whole darn row.

Our strawberries—sad to relate

The saucy red-breast robins ate,

The cabbages were got by slugs,

The rest—we fed them to the bugs.

Are we discouraged, no my dear

We'll simply try again this year,

And now, to end our dialogue
We'll mark seeds in the catalogue.

Let's Talk About Local Sports

The Haliburton Curling Club held their Annual Curling Bonspiel at Haliburton on Monday, and the day was a great success from every angle except from the weatherman. The ice was slow and it was a case of putting all your strength behind arokey every time it went down the ice. Our congratulations to all those winners and also to the losers who were such grand sports throughout.

Minden's first entry into the O.M.H.A. hockey will have their first game tonight at the Minden Recreation Centre when they will play against the Bobcaygeon Midgets. Some of the Minden boys have played against Bobcaygeon before and know what to expect. So this Minden Club will come out fighting on Thursday night right from the starting whistle until the last and final bell is sounded.

It's been some time now since a hockey club from Cobocok has played in Haliburton. Well, on Saturday night it will be your chance to get up to the arena and see the new entry into the league, the Club from Coby. The Cobocok team have a new arena to play on and should be plenty to beat. But the way the Huskies are flying they will also be hard to beat. So come what may, the fireworks will get under way at 9 p.m. on Saturday night at the Haliburton Arena. See you there!

Recreation Director Herb Baker has announced that he hopes to have quite a few skating parties at the Arena this coming year. The first skating party was held on Wednesday night and from all indications it was a great success. These skating parties are lots of fun for young and old alike.

Just A Reminder—If your lucky number is called from a hockey programme at the Haliburton Arena don't forget to write your name on that programme and hand it in at the box office. This is the only way that you can get in on the cash prizes at the end of the season.

The Haliburton Figure Skating Club are busy these days practicing for their Annual Carnival which will take place some time in February. The Haliburton Huskies will play in Cobocok this coming Tuesday night. The Minden Monarchs are at home this coming Saturday night to Parry Sound. The Haliburton Huskies are very fortunate to have two good netminders like Al Blanchard and Ed. Sabourin on the same team.

Huskies Give Little Britain Their First Defeat

The undefeated team of the Tri-County Hockey League were finally defeated on Saturday night at the Haliburton Community Arena when the Haliburton Huskies stepped in to down the Little Britain boys to the tune of 6 to 1.

A crowd of 500 hockey fans came out to see the Huskies in full control for practically sixty minutes of the game.

The Haliburton boys were right on their toes for this contest and really deserved the win. It was only great netminding on the part of Little Britain net minder that kept the score from reading something like a basketball game. The locals played with out the services of forward Lloyd Buck Baker and defenceman Mark Scheffee. Lt. Marshall made his first appearance with the Huskies and played a great game and scored one of the six Huskies goals. Marshall who had a tryout with the Barrie Flyers seems to have a world of experience behind him and will be a great help to the club after another couple of games. All three of the Huskies lines worked good and the kid line of Henry, Boyd Robertson and Mark Schell were all out on Saturday nite checking like veterans of old and they were a definite threat every time they came into the Little Britain zone.

The scoring started early in the first period at the 3 minute mark to be exact when Joe Iles took a short pass from Boyd Robertson to send it home and put the locals in a 1 to 0 lead. Then the Huskies pressed hard for the next ten minutes but couldn't seem to click around the net until the 15 minute mark of the period when Herb Baker scored on a three way pass play from Stuart Baker and Ken Carnochan.

In the second period the Huskies opened fire once again on the Little Britain cage and finally at the 6.51 mark of the period Lieut. Marshall took a pass in front of the net from Bud Dart and fired it home for his first goal in a Huskies uniform. Then 4 minutes later with the kid line on Boyd Robertson took a pass from Mark Schell and blasted it home and the Huskies had 4 to 0. Nearing the end of the period the Huskies made it 5 to 0 when the old smoothy Ken Carnochan picked a loose puck up at his own blue line, carried it thru the entire Little Britain Club and fired it home. This period was very clean and no penalties were handed out by Referee Carpenter of Sutton.

THE FARM FRONT

by John Russell

Barnyard manure is a "cash crop" which, if properly conserved and applied, can result in a substantial profit for the farmer according to recent experiments conducted at Canadian experimental stations.

In one test 15 tons of manure applied to the first crop in a four-year rotation increased value of yields in that period by $5.06 for each ton of manure applied. Crop values were based on the following prices: mangels at $1.93 per ton; oats at 49 cents a bushel; hay at $11.60 per ton.

While soil scientists are not all agreed upon the proper time and method of applying manure, one point has been definitely established: that manure should not be piled or stored where the liquid part can drain away and be lost and that the maximum fertilizing and soil improvement value can be obtained by applying manure direct from the stable.

Losses when handling manure may be reduced by the use of a specially formulated stable superphosphate marketed under a trade name. Since barnyard manure contains very little phosphorus, this material adds valuable phosphoric acid which gives the manure a more balanced plant food content. It also absorbs and holds ammonia nitrogen, which tends to escape as a gas while manure is still in the stable, and helps to retain the potash in liquid manure.

Over-grazing of grasslands was one of the main causes for the decline of ancient civilizations, delegates to the recent International Grassland Congress were told.

Speakers from many parts of the world stressed that acreage devoted to farm crops was becoming alarmingly low and it was imperative to conserve soil and make it more productive. Through grassland farming, feed and food supplies can be made more adequate and nutritious, labor on farms can be reduced and agriculture can be made more stable and more capable of serving the needs of the world's increasing population.

Grasses and legumes, if properly managed and fertilized, are important soil-conserving crops which make grassland farming of direct value to our agriculture and civilization.

Before a great many years have passed fabric weavers and garment manufacturers alike may be stitching to their products labels bearing the declaration "Guaranteed 100 per cent synthetic"—and by so doing ease one of the world's most pressing problems.

That doesn't mean that such natural fibres as wool and cotton are going to be displaced almost entirely as, for example, nylon displaced silk in hosiery. The natural fibres always will have a place in the textile industry. The volume used may increase. But economists expect man, of necessity, to turn more and more to man-made fibres. As consumption of all fibres rises, they expect the increase to be taken up by synthetic fibres.

This trend will not be due entirely to the synthetics' possession of superior qualities. It will be due also to the compelling force of some basic economic laws.

Last year, for example, the population of Canada increased by 420,000. The whole world gained about 25 millions. These additional people require food and clothing. Not only is a rising population pressing on the world's agricultural resources for its food supply, but the pressure is being further increased by higher living standards. Food requirements, say economists, therefore are going to gain first priority on the world's arable acres. Textile requirements will have to look elsewhere.

Modern Etiquette

Q. How should one take leave of persons to whom one has just been introduced?

A. You can say, "Good-by, I am very glad to have met you." To one who has been especially interesting, or who is somewhat of a personage you may say, "It has been a great pleasure to meet you."

Q. What is the correct procedure when a man picks up a glove or handkerchief dropped by a woman who is walking ahead of him on the street?

A. He should pick it up, hurry ahead of her—on no account should he nudge her—offer the article to her and say, "I think you dropped this." She replies, "Thank you," he lifts his hat and turns away.

Q. Is it proper to use the knife to cut open a muffin at the table?

A. Never! Bread of all kinds should be broken open with the fingers, never cut.

Q. Should the tissue paper be left in the engraved wedding invitations to be mailed?

A. No.

Q. What is really the correct position in which a person should hold his head while eating at the table?

Emmanuel — God With Us
Matthew 1:18-25

Memory Selection: Thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins. Matthew 1:21.

The engagement or betrothal was very sacred among the Jews. When the ceremony was completed making Mary the betrothed wife Joseph their relationship was as sacred, as if they had already been wedded. Any breach of it would be treated as adultery; nor could the bond be dissolved except, as after marriage, by regular divorce. Yet months must intervene between the betrothal and marriage.

During the period of engagement the angel Gabriel said to Mary, "The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee; therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God." LU. 1:35.

Needless to say, Joseph was disturbed when he found that the maiden to whom he was engaged was to bear a child; but

TV or Not TV? That's England's Crowning Question

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

London — One of the great public controversies of all times has been raging in England.

It was touched off by the initial flat announcement by the Earl Marshal's coronation headquarters in Belgrave Square that the actual rites of the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II next June 2 would not be televised.

Now the coronation committee has reconsidered, and there is a strong possibility that uncounted millions throughout the world will witness England's most solemn moment via the first international telecast in history.

In its original decision, the committee considered the supreme religious moment of the coronation—the anointing, or consecration of the Queen—too sacred to be either filmed or televised.

Well-informed Britons who sympathized with the decision thought TV would be an added ordeal for the young Queen herself in a ceremony which, even if shorter than the customary two and a half to three hours, will nevertheless be a severe strain on her physical and nervous energy.

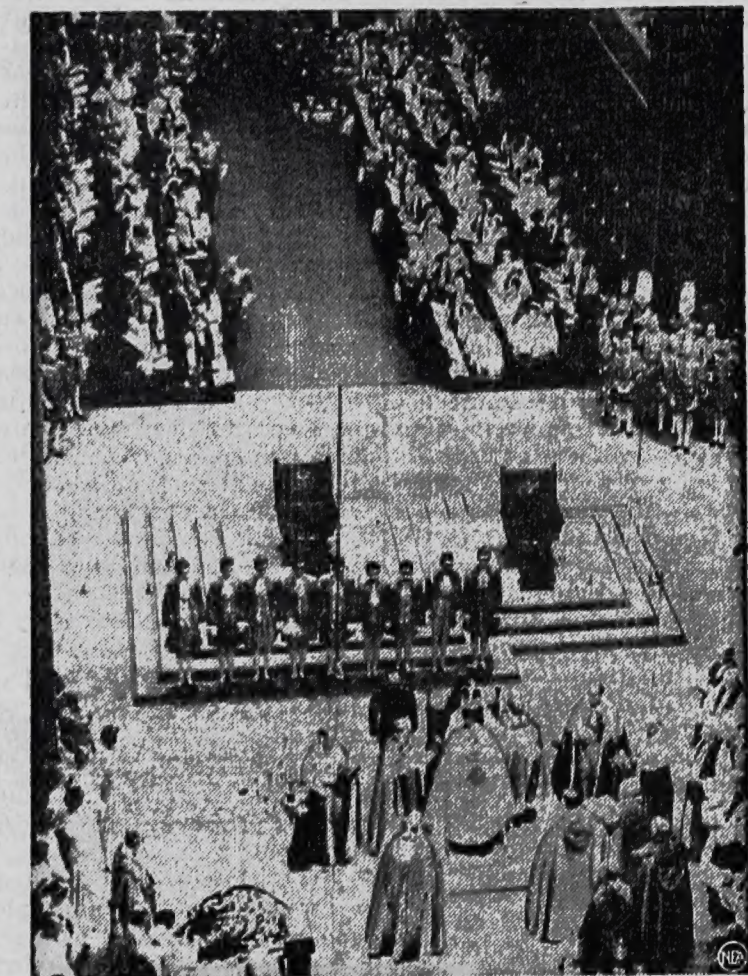

The fact remains, however, that never has such a decision raised such a protest nor caused such widespread disappointment.

Many thousands of people in England alone who, before the days of TV, never could have hoped to view the ceremony, have bought or had planned to buy a television set for this momentous occasion. An estimated 10 million in Great Britain own sets now; it's figured the number might well be doubled by June 2.

The liberal Manchester Guardian joined the cry in an editorial which suggested that "given a reverent approach and sensitiveness to the personal feelings of the Queen, it should be possible to present the coronation to the world as one of the most deeply moving of spectacles."

Those who did not think the ban is too drastic find the decision an essentially human one.

Television, they point out, magnifies the slightest slip-up which destroys the solemnity of the event. Every woman will appreciate that the Queen cannot, for instance, indulge in the instinctively feminine gesture of powdering her nose or using a handkerchief during any part of the long ceremony.

She will have to preserve her usual charming and serene appearance through the coronation and during her triumphant return procession to Buckingham Palace. And her makeup must be discreet, almost inconspicuous.

Elizabeth, however, is privileged as few women are in that she has a naturally "milk and roses" complexion.

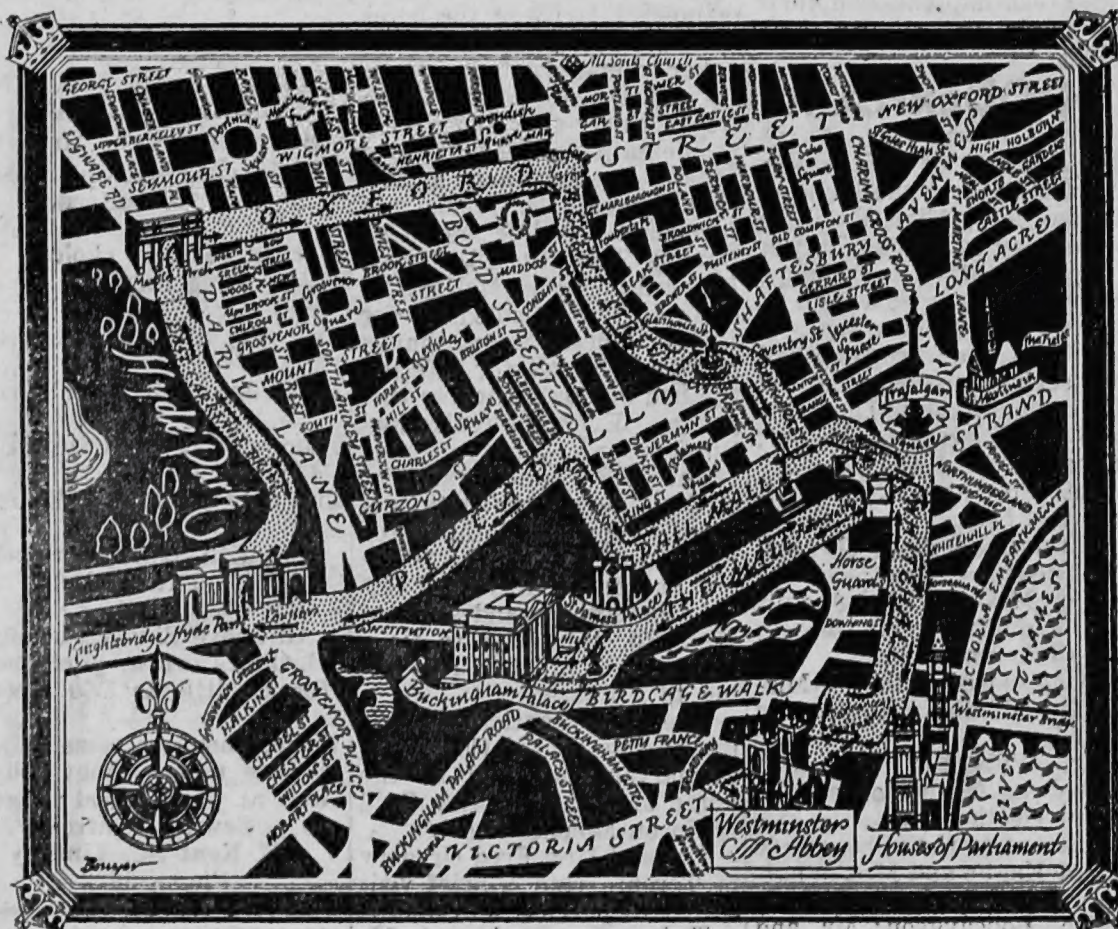

When she was 18, an expert beautician was called to Buckingham Palace to instruct her in the correct use of makeup. Since then, her beauty routine has been simple—a skin fresh-ener, a lightly-tinted liquid foundation, and superfine peach-colored powder.

She uses four different shades of lipstick, including "Balmoral," a clear red which was created for her wedding. She uses little or no mascara during the day. All the Queen's makeup ingredients are British products.

Television or not, the coronation of Elizabeth II will be a public holiday throughout the United Kingdom. The processional routine is fixed and street decorations approved.

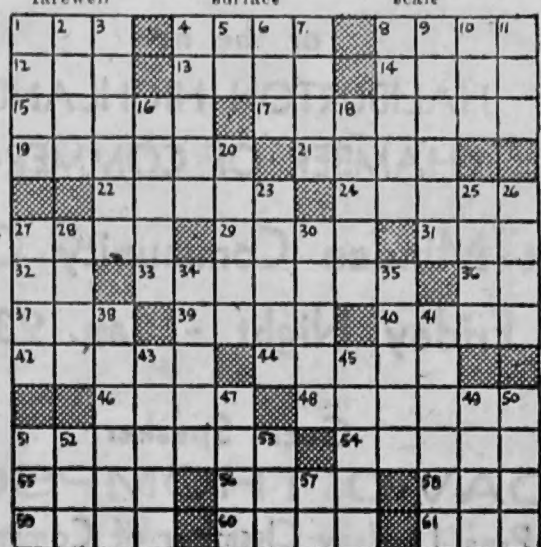

Stands will be erected for at least 98,000 and possibly 110,000 people. And along the route, about a million people will be watching the procession from public and private stands, from windows, and from toe-holds on pavements 10 deep with humanity.

Route Of Royal Procession: Map above, adapted from "Coming Events In Britain," details route Queen Elizabeth II will follow from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey and back.

the angel of the Lord appeared to him telling him that "That which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost." The prophecy in Isaiah 7:14 was quoted. This prediction of the birth of Emmanuel (God with us) had been made more than 700 years before. Some commentators believe that it had a relation to the birth of Isaiah's second son. (8:34). The Revised Standard Version uses the expression "a young woman" instead of "virgin." The Hebrew word is not the one usually used for "virgin" but is commonly defined as "a young woman of marriageable age." The change by the Revisers has disturbed many. However it does not alter the fact of the virgin birth with respect to Jesus; nor the fact that Isaiah's prophecy found its complete fulfillment in the birth of Jesus.

The miraculous conception is the most reverent and fitting way of bringing about the incarnation. Here the already existing Son of God entered upon a new human experience. Only those who would reject the deity of Jesus Christ reject the teaching of His virgin birth.

For A Better Highlands

The Highlands of Haliburton Tourist Association held its final meeting last Thursday night, at which time it was unanimously decided to merge the Association in the new Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce which is being organized.

During the many years that the Association has functioned, it was instrumental in developing the tourist industry of the County to such a degree that now, the Highlands of Haliburton are recognized as one of Ontario's premier vacation areas.

The County owes a debt of gratitude to the officers and employees of the Association who gave of their time and talents in the interest of the area.

Next Friday night, January 23rd, the inaugural meeting of the new Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Minden Community Centre and it is hoped that a huge crowd will be on hand from all over the County to lend support to the new venture.

From information that we have received, we believe that great interest is being taken by many groups and individuals which is very encouraging. We understand that besides the tourist resort operators, the merchants, farm forums, the lumbering industry, garages and service station operators, municipal officials and professional men and women and various community and fraternal organizations are showing a lively interest.

So we ask our readers to remember the date, January 23rd, and the place, Minden Community Centre, and come out and join the new organization, that we believe will be a vital force in the development of the County.

The Quiet Hour

by Stuart C. Wilson

In the tenth chapter of the gospel of Mark, verses 17 to 27, we find the story of a rich young ruler who came to Christ with the question, "Good Master, what must I do to inherit eternal life?" In verse twenty-one we read, that "Jesus beholding him loved him". Have you ever considered why it was that Jesus loved him?

There were several reasons, I believe, for the Word to mention that Jesus loved him. First of all, he was earnest to meet Christ. . . "there came one running". Such earnestness in very rare today. How few there are who are concerned about spiritual things. People are earnest for their business, homes, money, pleasure and many other things; but when it comes to the things that really count very few have any thought for them. But, thank God, here was a young man who was earnest about the things of eternal worth.

Then too, Jesus loved him because he was sincere. He "kneeled to Him". There was a lawyer in the tenth chapter of Luke who asked Christ the same question, but was not the least bit sincere about it. But here was this young man who was sincere about eternal life. Sincerity concerning spiritual things is indeed very rare today also. How few there are who are sincere about the things of God.

Again, Jesus loved this man because he was "young" (Matt. 19:22). He was not one who had grown old in sin. He was not turning to Christ as a last resort. He was a young man with a clear sparkling eye, a strong right arm, and an elastic step. He was climbing the hill of life with a gladness and a spirit that characterizes youth. He came to Christ because he knew that Christ had something that he needed. So many young people make the mistake today that Christianity is only for old folks. Listen, Christ can be the young people's Saviour and Friend as well as the older person's.

Christ loved this man also because he was a moral, upright young man. Christ did not challenge the declaration of the young man that He had kept all the commandments that He had mentioned. Jesus knew the claim was justified. But with all his morality and religion, still he did not have salvation. Salvation is not found in the keeping of the commandments, it is found alone in the Lord Jesus Christ. Many fall into the snare today of thinking that they'll make out all right if they do the best they can, but such is not the teachings of the pages of Holy Writ.

We find too that this young man had "great possessions". But with all his wealth and riches, there was still a longing in his heart that was not satisfied. Said Christ to this young man, "One thing thou lackest". All the money in the world could not buy it, because salvation is not sold on the world's markets, it is the free gift of God.

Here then was this young man with all his earnestness, with all his morality, with all his wealth, and with all his sincerity, and yet there was one thing lacking.

Notice what Christ said to this young man in verse twenty-one. He does not set down an iron rule here. The principle is that all must be resigned that hinders true discipleship. This man "trusted in riches", and the Lord knew it. In effect Christ said "You must decide between your riches and Me." The obstacle in your life may not necessarily be riches, it might

WEST GUILFORD

There appears to be a controversy in this district regarding the question of proper supervision of school children to, from and in school. From the vantage point of a teacher, pupil and parent, (positions which at different times is my life I have occupied), I should like to contribute a few remarks.

At Normal School we were instructed to consider the pupils as under our care from the moment they left their parents home until they returned to it. This is sometimes awkward when the children have long distances to walk to and from school, but in a district where the taxpayers have assessed themselves heavily for school busses they have a right to expect the children to be properly supervised in the bus. As a teacher once working under these conditions I was requested by the Board to discipline any pupil whom the bus driver reported for misconduct, without any further questioning.

Again we were instructed by our Normal teachers to supervise the play at recess. In a one room school this also presents a difficulty but where there are two or more teachers some arrangement can easily be made to alternate recess supervision. In cases of a large attendance we were advised to separate the boys from girls, especially if for any reason it was impossible for a teacher to be on the grounds at recess. As a teacher I have found this plan is advisable in public school, and as a parent I am very much in favour of it. In any of the numerous schools which I attended as a pupil, I remember that the majority followed this plan. In any of the ones which didn't there invariably arose some of those undesirable episodes which are the foundation for misconduct in later years. Recess is not an "off" time for the teacher. It is a planned break in the routine for the benefit of the pupil, and as important in his adjustment as the formal classroom work.

The question of the pupils leaving the grounds during school hours came also under one of my experiences. Most school boards request that the pupils be kept in the yard during school hours. Some schools which did not have sufficient room might permit the pupils to WALK up and down the sidewalk during recess within a designated distance of the school but anywhere that the grounds were large enough to hold them the Board requested that they be kept within bounds. This is a general practice and should not be too much for ratepayers to expect when they have put themselves to the expense of supplying an adequate play-be pleasures, companions, relatives, or business that stands between you and the Saviour. And that must be laid aside to give Christ first place. May the Holy Spirit search your heart and show you what you are trusting in rather than Christ.

Finally, look at what this young man did. "He went away sad". He chose his riches rather than Christ. And though the Lord loved this man, yet He let him go. Jesus didn't send him away from Him, nor did He turn His back upon him, but willfully this man left Christ and went away. He made the choice that each of one of us has to make. We either choose the Saviour, or else refuse Him. This man refused Christ, and went away sad. Thus it is with all who refuse the Lord Jesus, sadness is their portion in this life and throughout all eternity. Won't you trust Christ today and make Him your Saviour?

The noon hour is an "off" period for the teacher the same as for any other working man. Some teachers will gladly, in the interest of their pupils even forgo this right and keep an eye even while trying to eat their dinner, but in a school with a full time janitor, the janitor is expected to be on hand and to report misconduct during the noon hour.

In most schools the pupils ALL leave before the last teacher, but in this district some of the teachers leave first. This is a very dangerous situation, small pupils left for an hour or more without supervision, in this case again the janitor should be in charge of the building and should report cases of misconduct to the principal.

Any principal who has his school properly in hand is quite able to cope with these situations as they arise. The stumbling block often is that the school board does not make its wishes clearly known to the teachers or to the janitor.

Dysart
Farm Forum

The newly formed Forum held a very encouraging and lively meeting on Monday, January 12th at the home of John Gainforth. The number present enabled the chairman to form two groups to discuss the questions which were supplied.

These were the following questions dealing with the young people.

- (a) What is being done in your community to discover and develop young people with leadership and qualities?
- (b) What else could be done?
2. A farm official has said there are more opportunities for employment and election to office in the farm movement today than can be filled.

What reasons may keep young people from holding office or taking positions in farm organizations?

Well neighbors what would your answer be to these questions and many more coming up for the following winter months? Contact Mr. Basil Boice, Chairman for particulars and you will be welcome to attend the meetings.

Lochlin
Farm Forum

That the public school in Haliburton is not giving training in public speaking to the pupils either of that village or of the rural areas which it serves, was brought up in discussing Future Farm Leaders at this week's Forum meeting in Lochlin. It was pointed out that Haliburton never has any entries in the public speaking contest sponsored each year by the Rotary Club. All our schools should give more training in civic affairs, to encourage the young people to have the confidence to participate in municipal government.

If the young people are encouraged to attend either regular terms or the short courses at the Agricultural Colleges, they will bring back the information and leadership so badly needed to develop farm organizations in our county. This would tend to keep our young men on our farms, rather than seeking the farther fields which look greener.

Many people take office in an organization, only to resign through a lack of confidence, at the slightest criticism. They should realize that it is only because they are doing something that there is anything for the critics.

On Monday, Jan. 26th, an evening of films is being planned, to be shown in the Lochlin School. Mr. Wc. Dugan is arranging for Mr. Weir of Agricultural Chemicals of Port Hope to bring some films on Fertilizers. Some will be in colour and sound. Everyone interested in improved production should attend.

The Forum meets next week at Walter Harrison's.

OF PARLIAMENT

by CLAYTON W. HODGSON, M.P.

Parliament re-opened Monday, January 12, after the Christmas recess. First item of proceedings of the day was a bill asking the Government to remove the four percent limitation from the section which makes provision for the deductibility of medical expenses for income tax purposes. Stanley Knowles spoke. Mr. Abbott answered him and moved the adjournment of the debate, not giving any person else a chance to speak on it. This applied "closure" the first time it has been used in the House of Commons in many, many years. This is another good example of an over balanced Dominion Government.

A resolution for pensions for totally disabled persons was talked out by the Liberal members on Wednesday, January 16th. Evidently the Government did not want it to come to a vote, in case it might become legislation. They knew the bill would pass, as many of the Liberal members had spoken in favor of the bill and would be obliged to vote accordingly. Therefore the Government had more and more Liberal members speak until the time for private members' bills had elapsed, and no vote was taken.

The 1951 Bureau of Statistics record shows this capital city with a population of 25 percent bilingual people. The total population is 202,045 and 55,267 speak both English and French; 137,857 speak English only and 8,415 speak French only, and 509 speak some other language. The population of Hull, Quebec, reverses this picture—2,746 speak English only, 19,306 speak French only, and 21,411 speak both English and French.

There is stormy weather for the Government here in the Commons, while the debate on the Currie report has been unfolding cases of stealing, problems of pilfering, mis-handling of payrolls and poor administration. Officers have been drawing army pay and civil service pay at the same time, some of them up to approximately 1,900.00 per month. A brigadier had been appointed by Order in Council (the Cabinet) at $11,500.00 a year without competition. The Commons was told of new evidence of inefficiency in the accounting systems of all armed forces. Watson Sellar, Auditor-General, in his annual report to Parliament on the Government's public accounts for the year ended March 31, 1952, found shortcomings in the accounting systems of the armed forces which may bring as much criticism on the Defence Department as the celebrated Curriereport.

The Minister of Trade and Commerce, with twelve officials of that Department, is in South America on an extended trade mission.

I wish everyone of my constituents a happy and prosperous year in 1953.

(Conclusion)

CHILDREN'S EXCURSIONS

In the summer of 1921, the Inspector, in company with three teachers from the County, carried out the first of what has come to be known as the Children's Excursions. These excursions are by train to Toronto Exhibition, and are always held on Children's Day. Free admission to the grounds and grandstand is one feature of the event, and an extra day in the city, sight-seeing is another. In general, children bring sufficient food for two days, and each child brings a blanket for sleeping at night. One of the Toronto churches is used for sleeping accommodation, and the people of whatever church selected invariably entertain the children in the evening, and give them at least one hot meal per day.

At the first excursion 67 children availed themselves of the chance, but the next year, 1922, nearly double that number attended. In 1926 the number was very great, thus showing that the event is popular.

In October, 1926, the County had the pleasure of entertaining the Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, B.A., LL.D., Minister of Education. The event took place on the fair grounds at Haliburton, and many hundreds of people from all parts of the County came to greet the Minister, who was also Premier of the Province. The children of the County presented the program in part, which consisted of physical drills and community singing. Mr. Ferguson made an eloquent address and pointed out the advantages of securing a good education.

The following year, 1927, being the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation, a similar program, but much more elaborate, was staged at the same place on July first.

In 1939, Oct. 3rd, a third event of a similar nature was arranged, and the people of the County had the pleasure of entertaining his excellency Lord Willington, Governor General of Canada, who graciously attended as guest of honor. Here again the children presented the program, which was much enjoyed by his Excellency and the many thousands of people who came from all parts of the County.

Haliburton Figure Skating Carnival

The Haliburton Figure Skating Club are lining up their carnival for this season. This event is always well patronized and this year should be no exception as the club have a grand carnival lined up. We understand that some new features will be added to the carnival and it will be your opportunity to see the local figure skating stars in action. Keep this date in mind and each week we will keep you up with the attractions for this year's show. Right now you can be of assistance by giving the Figure Skating Club all the help you can give.

Coboconk vs. Huskies Sat. Night

This Saturday night Coboconk will be the visitors on Haliburton ice. It's been some time since the boys from Coboconk have played hockey in Haliburton and the old cry of Break-A-Leg Coboconk will once again be sounded on Saturday night. The team from Coby are the new entry into the league and from all reports have a pretty good hockey club. So come this Saturday night, you won't want to miss it. Game time is 9 p.m. so come out and see a great hockey game and get your lucky number program. On Tuesday night of next week the Huskies will play the return game in Coboconk.

The newspapers of this area were kind enough to display notice of this meeting in a very conspicuous place in the last issue, and yet the meeting received no support at all from those who are and will be represented by this Council.

I would like to particularly complement you on the section which outlines to the public the seriousness of this lack of interest and co-operation which is and has been shown in the past on such occasions.

Your column dealing with these matters is timely and is a service in the public interest. There are many places in the world today whose people would give a great deal if it were possible to obtain the type of Government which our people fail to value.

Yours truly,

every man should know that hospitals are liabilities not assets—they never are a paying concern—so unless absolutely necessary must be a luxury. Many citizens of our cities must drive farther than we in Minden to reach a Hospital.

Let those who promote such ideas use their imagination and ambition in securing for Minden an industry to help our citizens eke out a decent wage for the 12 months of a year and thereby have some substantial security against the already rising taxation.

Minden,

The Editor,
Haliburton County Echo.

Dear Sir:

I read with some concern in the County Echo, of a meeting called by a group of Minden citizens to discuss the closing of the beer parlors here. I wonder if they realize what that would mean, not only to this Community but right across the Country. In the first place the materials, such as hops, barley, etc., used in the manufacture of beer are sown, grown, cultivated and harvested by the farmer and his employees, likewise the employees of the breweries and transportation services, who rely wholly or partly on this industry for their livelihood, together with their wives and families right across Canada, to say nothing of the employment given locally. I think if they would look at it without being narrow minded they would realize that the beer parlors are not to blame for excessive drinking by some individuals. It's entirely up to each and everyone, male or female what he or she does with their money or time. They alone will have to answer at the "Reckoning Day" as to "how they played the game". So let's go about it a different way and offer a helping hand to a brother or sister in need of a pleasant smile, a cheery word of advice, this has been known to work wonders, so let's try it here, and then, when our time on this earth is finished, we shall hear that welcome voice saying "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the Joy of thy Lord."

Yours truly,
CHARLES PECK.
